DEFENDS WORK OF "Y"

SOME THINGS RETURNING SOLDIERS DO NOT CRITICISE THE Y. M. C. A. FOR DOING

455 West Myrtle St., Glendale, Cal.
March 1, 1919.

Editor Glendale News, Glendale, Cal.

Dear Mr. Editor: As I helped to raise the last distinctively Y. M. C. A. war fund in Glendale, and being a resident of the city for over seven years and a state secretary, I would like, with your permission, to tell my fellow townsmen, especially those who contributed so liberally to the above fund, some things the returning soldiers do not criticise the Young Men's Christian Association for. Here is a partial list:

None of them has criticized us for distributing free overseas more than $1,000,000 worth of athletic supplies.

None of them has objected to our sending over more than 1,000 trained athletic directors.

No one has yet said it was a mistake to send more than 100 theatrical troupes, which included the leading members of the profession in this country.

Nor has anyone objected to the fact that over 4,000,000 feet of film were shown each month in the Y. M. C. A. huts overseas.

Neither has anyone complained of the efforts of the organization supplying hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of musical instruments free.

No soldier has yet said that the Y. M. C. A. should not have furnished free, at a great total cost, millions of sheets of writing paper on which soldiers wrote sweetheart, mother and homefolk generally.

Nor has any soldier yet objected to the organization paying from $60 to $75 a ton for coal to keep the Y. M. C. A. huts cosy and cheerful.

They have not even objected to the hundreds of huts all over Frence, where they could go to write a letter home, see a moving picture, hear a word of cheer and join in prayer with their comrades for strength and fortitude to play the man as the zero hour approached.

Thev have not yet said that we were too liberal when we allowed the Catholic priest and Jewish rabbi to hold their services in our huts.

Not one word of complaint has been made that scores of leading ministers, like Dr. Carl Patton of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, Dr. James A. Francis, Dr. Robert Freeman and Dr. Merle N. Smith, were sent to France to do what they could in a spiritual way.

The same is true as to lack of complaint because the Y. M. C. A. changed money for soldiers so that 300,000 remittances were made to home folks, aggregating $16,000,000.

No soldier has yet said that the Y. M. C. A. made a mistake by allowing

O. E. S. PARTY

FUNCTION TONIGHT AT MASONIC TEMPLE TO BE ONE OF THE LARGEST THIS YEAR

Members of the Eastern Star are busy this morning making the final preparations for the big social affair to be given at the Masonic Temple this evening by Glen Eyrie Chapter, O. E. S. It will be one of the most important society and lodge functions which has taken place this year and will take the form of a dance and card party. A very large number of tickets have been sold and a fine attendance is therefore assured. There will be a number of special features. For instance, guests will be given a musical treat during the dance intermission. There will be a number of guests from Los Angeles well known in Glendale, whose friends here will be very gad to see them. Four prizes have been provided for the card players, and the dancers are assured of fine music from a four-piece orchestra consisting of saxophone, banjo, trap drum and paino.

ATTORNEY GOODWIN MOVES

Attorney Henry P. Goodwin of Glendale, who has had his offices at 828-9 Title Insurance Building, Los Angeles, has recently moved and is now very comfortably and conveniently located in rooms 232-3 of the same building. He has associated with him now Attorney Paul J. Otto.

Miss Bertha Jackson of 318 Milford, who has been staying at Catalina for some time with her father, Jno. H. Jackson, who was severely injured in lifting about three weeks ago, came over Friday to stay until Sunday. Mr. Jackson expects to be able to resume work Monday.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED MONDAY.

The athletic event in which interest now centers at Glendale Union High, the game which is to decide the championship of the Suburban Football League and determine whether Glendale or Citrus High wins the pennant, is to be played Monday afternoon on the neutral field of the South Pasadena High. The game has been called for 3:45 and school will be dismissed early enough to allow the big Glendale delegation which will wish to attend to make the run and get there in time.

PROBLEMS OF YOUTH

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATES LEARN OF THEIR GREAT RESPONSIBILITIES

Friendly and "homey" were the graduation exercises for pupils of the Intermediate and Cerritos Avenue Schools. They were fine classes, the boys manly and vigorous, the girls no less rugged, but more of a picture in their white middy suits, their scarlet scarfs and hair bows.

It was good to see them all taking part in the exercises, in fact furnishing the program except the address, for it opened with a piano solo, Minuet Modern, by Beaumont—a melodious composition played very conscientiously by Iris Nofziger. Then there was a chorus by girls of the class—the "Barcarolle," from "Tales of Hoffman"—which always pleases an audience, and this one could certainly not resist when sung by fifteen pretty young girls and reinforced by a violin obligato played by two class members.

A violin solo, "Berceuse," from "Jocelyn," by Goddard, was played by Beatrice Bolen to the entire satisfaction and applause of the audience, and last but not least of the evening's enjoyments was the class song, sung by the class and written by one of its members, June Goto, daughter of Mr. Goto, the nurseryman of Central Avenue. The first verse ran like this:

"O Hip! Hurrah!
Three cheers for us—
For Eighth Grade and for High.
We're going to Glendale High,
My Dear diploma and I,
And all through High
We'll work with zeal,

G. A. R. WEDDING

MRS. MARY RHEA AND GEO. W. SANFORD MARRIED AT MEETING OF POST AND CORPS

The regular gathering of members of the N. P. Banks Post and Corps at Grand Army Hall for an all-day meeting Friday proved an important and memorable occasion and demonstrated that almost anything of a pleasant nature can happen there. There was, of course, the usual post meeting in the forenoon. That was followed by the "Swap Social" conducted by Mrs. Adelaide Imler, which yielded much amusement and a goodly sum for the corps treasury.

Then came the real event of the day, the marriage of Comrade George W. Sanford and Mrs. Mary E. Rhea. Rev. C. R. Norton, grand chaplain, officiated and beautifully performed the regular Methodist ceremonial. Very sweet the bride looked in a blue crepe de chine, with violet corsage bouquet. The groom was in the conventional black. Just preceding the ceremony an original poem, composed by Comrade Sanford and voicing his happiness, was read by Comrade Kanouse. A poem celebrating the occasion and the many charming qualities of the bride, written by Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshell, was read by her immediately following the tying of the knot. Then congratulations were showered and received and the wedding dinner was served.

Comrade Sanford has been a member of the local post for twenty years or more and is very highly esteemed. His bride has been connected with the corps for ten or fifteen years, and their attachment to the organization and to their many friends in it is mutual.

Following the afternoon program, they left for the beautiful Sanford ranch in Verdugo Canyon, where they will make their home, Mrs. Sanford having leased her own home on Maryland Avenue.

It was a great disappointment to Captain Hickman that he was unable to be present, but he donated the

GERMAN SITUATION VERY SERIOUS

SPARTACIDES MASS FORCES IN CENTRAL DISTRICTS TO CUT OFF BERLIN FROM REST OF COUNTRY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Berne, Switzerland, March 1.—Dispatches today indicated that new Spartacan successes had been gained in Germany and that the government now faces the most serious situation since the new revolution started. The Spartacides are evidently determined to cut Berlin from the remainder of the country and are concentrating large forces in Central Germany.

The triumph of revolution in Southern Germany may mean the fall of the national assembly.

The government is still undecided what course to follow, and President Ebert still favors a compromise with the radicals.

CALL FOR IMMEDIATE PEACE ACTION

CONCLUSION OF TEMPORARY PEACE OR LIFTING OF THE BLOCKADE DECLARED TO BE NECESSARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, March 1.—A Paris dispatch to the London News today declared that the economic committee of the peace conference had reported to the war council that it will be necessary to conclude immediately a temporary peace or to lift the blockade against Germany. The dispatch said the recommendation was based on the report of fourteen British officers who had investigated conditions in Germany.

NEW EFFORT FOR WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE

SENATOR GAY OF LOUISIANA PLEDGES SUPPORT OF THE JONES RESOLUTION INTRODUCED YESTERDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, March 1.—Senator Gay of Louisiana today announced that he would support the woman's suffrage resolution introduced yesterday by Senator Jones of Washington.

Senator Jones declared that Gay's support insures its passage at this session if a vote can be secured.

RUSSIA HEAVIEST LOSER OF MEN IN WAR

TOTAL LOSSES OF ALL NATIONS 7,354,000 DEAD, WITH THE UNITED STATES LAST ON THE LIST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, March 1.—Chief of Staff General March today announced that a total of 7,354,000 men of all nations died during the war. Russia was the heaviest loser with 1,700,000 dead. Germany came second, France third, and the United States last in the list of great powers.

WANT TO CHANGE LEAGUE CONSTITUTION

FRENCH WILL AGAIN URGE INTERNATIONAL ARMY AND JAPAN AIR VIEWS ON IMMIGRATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, March 1.—When President Wilson returns to France he will find movements under way for important amendments to the league of nations' constitution.

Japan is preparing to present her views on the immigration question, but the indications are she will merely make a statement and not a real fight for their adoption.

The French will again urge the plan for an international army and intend to state their cause as strongly as possible, firmly believing it will strengthen the league.

The Paris Journal is urging that the league pension all soldiers who fought in the war. The plan calls for the apportionment to each member of the league of an amount of money annually, based on the number of men mobilized during the war, the number killed, the length of a nation's participation in the war, the material damage suffered, population and amount of money expended. Under this plan France would receive the greatest amount, England next, Italy third and the United States fourth.

The apportionment to the United States would be fifteen millions annually. The money would be raised on a pro rata basis among the nations involved. The United States would contribute 36 per cent of the total fund.

PRESIDENT SIGNS FIFTEEN BILLS

MAKES A LAW OF THE BILL ALLOWING SERVICE MEN TO KEEP UNIFORMS AND EQUIPMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, March 1.—President Wilson today signed fifteen bills and one joint resolution, including the post office appropriation bill, a measure authorizing the resumption of voluntary army enlistments, a bill allowing service men to retain their clothing and equipment on discharge, and an act authorizing the payment of allotments in disputed cases.

TO FOSTER PRODUCTION OF ROCK AND RYE

Glendale people may be shocked to learn that former and much respected residents, now living at Buena Park, are encouraging the production of Rock and Rye, but there are extenuating circumstances. Elizabeth and Everett Berkey, children of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Berkey, recently were presented with a Duroc pig apiece. Elizabeth promptly dubbed her porker with the abbreviation, "Rock," which was so suggestive that Everett christened his baby hog Rye. It is nip and tuck as to which will make the biggest increase over the original stock.

KNIGHTS DINE

GLENDALE COMMANDERY ENJOYS TURKEY DINNER AND FINE PROGRAM

Now that peace has come and strenuous conservation and service in connection with the war is over, the Masonic orders, particularly the local Commandery of Knights Templar, feel that they can relax and play a little. It has therefore planned a series of social functions within the order on a rather more elaborate scale than it has been giving, one of which took place Friday night. It was a five-course turkey dinner for Knights and their ladies, and covers were laid for about 125 guests. The only rift in the lute in connection was the illness of Commander C. L. Peckham, which prevented his attendance. He had looked forward to it as the most important event of his term of office, and it was a serious disappointment to him and to his fellow members.

Very beautiful floral decorations had been provided by members of the Eastern Star and through the courtesy of the Glendale Plant and Floral Company, Captain Jackson of that firm being a Mason and personally interested.

The dinner was served in the banquet hall in a highly satisfactory manner, and a little excitement was furnished while it was in progress by a man who came rushing in with a request for a fire extinguisher to be used at a blaze in the next block, but the excitement was quelled by the prompt action of Miss Champlain at the piano.

Following the dinner, guests adjourned to the lodge hall above, which was beautifully decorated, as already stated, and where the following fine program was given. Every number was of rare excellence and the lodge considers itself wonderfully fortunate to be able to command home talent of such a high order:

1. Violin Solo, "Fantasie Appassionato" (Vieuxtemps)—Mr. John Marquardt, violin; Miss Gertrude Champlain, piano.
2. Nautch Dance, an impersonation of Ruth St. Dennis—Miss Julia Pelley.
3. Reading—Mrs. Calvin Whiting.
4. Harp solo, "Cascades" (Zabel)—Mrs. Marquardt.
5. Vocal solo, "For All Eternity"—Mrs. Charles Peckham.
6. Peter Pan Dance—Miss Julia Pelley.
7. Violin and harp: (a) Aria from "Samson and Delilah" (Saint Saens); (b) Berceuse (Oberthuer).
8. Patriotic finale, piano, violin and harp, audience singing.

CONGRESS OF MOTHERS OPPOSE BILL

One of the bills pending before the present Legislature would create a Bureau of Child Hygiene under the direction of the State Board of Health. This bill was considered at length at an executive session of the First District California Congress of Mothers, held here this week and the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, The Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers' Associations are organized for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the child in the home, the church and the school, and are vitally interested in a state welfare bureau which will administer to and enhance the lives of our children that they may be a credit to the nation; and,

Whereas, The California Legislature, convening February 24, has before it for consideration Assembly Bill 114, we feel it timely to give expression to the results of our endeavor and thought, that our legislators may know the feeling of their constituency;

Now, therefore, we the First District California Congress of Mothers, representing a membership of thir-

PUBLIC SERVICE PLANS

ENGINEER INSTRUCTED TO PREPARE PLANS FOR EXTENSIONS, DEVELOPMENTS

At the meeting of city trustees Thursday evening at the City Hall, an ordinance was passed creating a public service department and repealing a former ordinance which provided in a measure for the same thing. The ordinance was followed by the passage of a resolution making certain appointments provided for in the ordinance.

The new ordinance contains a provision that the management of the new public service department shall be under the supervision of the city manager.

It also creates the office of auditor to have charge of the books and meter readings, of collections and such other matters as the auditor may be directed to look after by the city manager.

Creation was also made of the office of superintendent, to have charge of construction, maintenance and operation of the department, subject to the supervision of the city manager.

Resolutions were passed by the board in connection with the ordinance employing H. B. Lynch as engineer of the public service department at the same salary he has been receiving, $250 per month, or in case he engages in the private practice of his profession and undertakes contracts for municipalities on a percentage basis, to pay him for his services to the city on the same basis. His duties as defined by the resolution are to prepare plans and specifications for the following improvements and extensions which the board has in mind for the water system of the city:

1. Pipes and other requirements needed for extensions and betterment of the present distributing system to take care of the natural growth of the plant for the next two years.
2. Reservoir of large storage capacity.
3. Wells, pumping plant, settling basin and other requirements for the fullest development, conservation and protection of the city's water supply within Verdugo Canyon.
4. Large trunk line connecting said wells, pumping plant, etc., with the aforementioned reservoir. Also trunk line connecting said reservoir with the main on Glendale Avenue.
5. Electric generation plant to be located at reservoir hereinbefore mentioned for the generation of electric power from power developed in the transmission of water from the power plant in Verdugo Canyon to the storage reservoir, also to estimate the value of power to be developed.
6. Purchase of Verdugo Canyon Water Company shares, together with such addtioinal water shares it may be advisable to purchase at this time, and such other extensions and betterments of the water system as the public necessity and convenience may require.

NEW BUSINESS VENTURE

FRANCIS E. GILMAN BUYS BOOK DEPARTMENT OF GLENDALE PAINT AND PAPER CO.

Francis E. Gilman of 1241 East Harvard Street, this city, has just purchased the stationery, book and art department of the Glendale Paint and Paper Company. The business will be conducted at the same location, 119 South Brand Boulevard, under the name, "Gilman Stationery and Art Shop." Mr. Kuntzner will share the store, however, and continue there his paint and paper business.

Mr. Gilman states that the stock will be greatly increased; new lines will be carried so that a complete, up-to-date stationery, art and book stock will be installed, including school books and supplies and office equipment.

Mr. Gilman has been connected for the past seventeen years, both in Los Angeles and in San Francisco, with the wholesale firm of Cunningham, Curtiss & Welch, and he understands the business from the ground up. His business connections give him unusual facilities for meeting the needs of our city, with which he is well acquainted, having been a resident for several years. He has a large social and lodge acquaintance and will be welcomed here as a business man.

He is taking up the work with great enthusiasm, having large faith in the future of Glendale, which he believes is big enough to support a metropolitan book and art shop where many attractive novelties can be found.

ANCIENT HISTORY

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the thirty-ninth annual report of the director of the United States Geological Survey, which is of some value and which would be of more interest were it more timely. It is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, and has to do with the work of the department during the twelve months preceding that date. The majority of citizens would like to know something of what has been discovered in 1918 and 1919 relative to mineral deposits in their state. Procrastination seems to be the order of officialdom. In any competitive business which called for reports they would have been issued on the heels of the period they were supposed to cover and not nine months afterward. But such is life in the government employ, and it means tremendous waste of money for the publication of facts too stale to be of public interest.

The News is also equally indebted for a copy of the Congressional Directory, which is equally fresh and fascinating, having been corrected to January 21, 1918.

teen thousand voters, do this 20th day of Februray, 1919, in executive session

Resolve, That Assembly Bill 114 is neither clear nor definite in its intent, gives no assurance as to its educational propaganda or extent of service, places the executive power in the hands of the State Board of Health, which may at its discretion exercise a mandatory power distasteful to the individual where the community welfare is not imperiled, designates that the director shall be a licensed physician practicing in the State of California making impossible the employment of a director, from another state, no matter how well qualified, and places the entire program in the hands of one school of medicine, whereas our National Bureau, of which we are justly proud, is directed by a social worker interested in every phase of child culture. Moreover, the appropriation provided for is not sufficient to create a bureau of so great an import to every community in the state; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we oppose the passage of Assembly Bill 114 and so notify our legislators.

It is understood that similar resolutions will be passed by other organizations interested in child welfare movements but who decline to allow child welfare to be used as the agency of one school of medicine.

Personals

Harry M. Goldsmith and wife have moved into the house at 511 East Havard.

The lecture night of the O. S. Health and Success Club has been changed from Wednesday to Thursday, 8 p. m.

Mrs. C. S. Hills, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Legrand, at 342 West Wilson Avenue for the past three weeks, has returned to her home in San Diego.

Mrs. E. A. Whitaker of 210 West Windsor Road, who was so unfortunate as to have quite a serious fall about two weeks ago, hurting her arm rather badly, is gradually recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Colton of Rockford, Ill., who have been guests of A. L. Colton, 823 North Brand Boulevard, are taking apartments at 1022 West Forty-second Street, Los Angeles.

Dr. A. O. Conrad, who underwent an operation at Thornycroft last Tuesday for the amputation of a finger, is recuperating and expects to be in his office in the First National Bank building about the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ellis of Gardena avenue, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kerker, had a most delightful trip to Ventura and Wheeler Hot Springs, leaving Tuesday and returning Thursday night. Mr. Kerker reports the fishing very poor, as the fish are not taking bait. A few are being caught by snagging methods which he finds no sport in.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bannock have sold their home in this city at 375 West Broadway and are leaving for the north to be near their daughter, Miss Iris Bannock, who is taking a four years' course at the State University at Berkeley. They are leaving many friends in Glendale and vicinity and take this means of saying good-bye to those whom they have not had the chance to visit in person.

Mrs. L. E. Berkey of Buena Park was in Glendale Wednesday and Thursday of this week to move some furniture down to the present home. They have bought five acres of good land in the edge of Buena Park, sunk a well and built a two-story pump house around it. In this they will live until they can build a bungalow. Mr. Berkey is working for the Standard Oil Company and the family is prospering.

Mrs. William Porter, Jr., with her baby, is the guest of her husband's mother, Mrs. William Porter, at 923 North Brand Boulevard. Ensign Porter, stationed at San Diego, is waiting for his commission, which he expects to receive in a few days. When it reaches him he expects to be given a furlough, which he will spend in Glendale. He will then be given an assignment. Of course he has no means of knowing what it will be. His mother, Mrs. William Porter, has been quite ill for the past two or three weeks.

orange blossoms worn by the bride and employed in decoration.

A number of distinguished guests were present, the list including Department Commander Roberts of San Francisco; Mrs. Hyde, department treasurer of the W. R. C., of Pomona, and delegations from posts and corps in Los Angeles, Pomona, Watts and other places.

On the return to the auditorium, where Mrs. Lillian Peckham, president of the corps, conducted the meeting, a fine program was given, which included humorous readings by Mrs. Eustace B. Moore, which were much enjoyed and which had special reference to the event of the day. Comrade R. D. Kanouse read Lincoln's Gettysburg address, Robert Taylor read a eulogy to Washington and all united in singing a verse from "Lead, Kindly Light," the favorite hymn of President McKinley. In this manner the national memorial days of February were observed. Department Commander Roberts then gave one of the finest addresses ever made before the post, in which he paid eloquent tribute to Theodore Roosevelt.

Thomas Clark, senior vice commander of the department, made an excellent talk, as did also Mrs. Hyde. The audience united in singing "America" and "Star-Spangled Banner," and the benediction was pronounced by George S. LeClere of Eagle Rock.

Following the program, the corps held its customary business session.

Advertise it, or advertise for it in the Evening News.

S. S. PROBLEMS

DISCUSSED AT DISTRICT CONVENTION IN FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

The first convention of the Glendale District Sunday Schools under the new plan was held yesterday afternoon and evening in the basement of the First M. E. Church, and the attendance was very gratifying. In the afternoon most instructive addresses on "Organized Sunday School Work" by Mrs. Pearl B. Gentry, state worker, and "The Sunday School at Play" by Rev. Phillips, secretary for Southern California, were delivered. Both were replete with vital information and valuable suggestions to the Sunday School workers. Rev. E. A. Hoskyn led the devotional exercises.

Dr. Allen Moore, whose wonderful pageant of Bible scenes in costume is now being given in the church, showed his model of the ancient tabernacle and explained its striking features, showing how, more than 3,000 years ago, God typified to the very letter in this tabernacle the church of today. The laver represents Christian baptism at the entrance; the golden candlestick, God's Word, "a lamp to our feet and a guide to our pathway;" the shewbread, partaken of once a week by the priests, the Communion; incense, daily prayer, and the holy of holies, heaven, the goal of all members of the church.

In the evening Dr. Moore opened the services with a brief section of his pageant, showing women of Bethlehem, Bethany, Arimathea and the Land of Moab in the costumes worn in Abraham's and David's time and worn in exactly the same style today. He showed the primitive plow used then and still used, some crooked sticks bound together and a rude metal "share" attached. The yoke for the animals drawing it, oxen, camels or asses, was shown also, and the method of using the rude instrument. All this was faithfully portrayed by costumed men and boys. Then the method of threshing and cleaning the grain and the way it was ground were also portrayed. One must see this wonderful pageant to realize what it means. Dr. Moore was a foreign missionary for seventeen years in Algeria, Morocco and Palestine. His costumes and implements were secured in the Holy Land and are such as are in daily use. Other parts of this pageant will be shown tonight, Sunday afternoon and night and Monday afternoon and night. When in Algeria Dr. Moore became well acquainted with General Mangin, the French general who later distinguished himself in the world war. He describes him as a man of deep religious convictions and a man of prayer.

Following the pageant Mrs. Gentry summoned the teachers of children in the primary and junior departments to a conference, which proved very helpful, and Dr. Phillips conducted a conference for the others, in which problems of the Sunday School teacher were ably discussed.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected, as follows: President, H. L. Finlay; vice president, Geo. W. Tyrrell; secretary, O. L. Kilborn; treasurer, H. H. Faries; superintendent of children's department, Mrs. E. D. Yard; superintendent of young people's department, Mrs. H. D. McPherson; of adults, Rev. R. W. Mottern; educational department, Prof. A. W. Tower; administration department, Duncan Forsythe of Burbank.

The resolution stated that the estimates would be used as a basis for determining the amount of a bond issue to be submitted to the voters of Glendale at an election to be called at an early date. Resolutions were also passed employing Dean S. Phillips as auditor of the public service department at a salary of $165 per month, and Peter Diederich as superintendent of the department at a salary of $160 per month.

City officials state that it has been apparent for some time that the present needs of the city water sysem and the natural development of the city require that the domestic water supply of Verdugo Canyon be more fully developed, conserved and protected, and that a large reservoir for storage and other extensions and betterments of the water distributing system be installed. Action relative to these imporant needs has been postponed on account of financial conditions incident to the war.

A report giving a general summary of the future needs of the water department has already been prepared by Mr. Lynch and is on file with the board of trustees. That report includes the items mentioned in the resolution and several others. The resolution merely segregates the most immediate needs and from the preliminary estimates it would appear that the probable cost of the improvements and betterments would be in the neighborhood of $180,000.

The electrical generator referred to is designed to develop electrical energy from the transmission of water at the pumping plant to the lower reservoir. The pumping plant will be situated at the 940 level and the reservoir at the 720 level, and the difference in elevation will permit of the development of considerable electrical energy, which will be worth, according to Mr. Lynch's estimates, twice as much as the cost of pumping. In the report, which he is to prepare, Mr. Lynch will set forth what that saving will be.

SHAKESPEARE SECTION

Temple, the curator, announces that since this is the beginning of a new term, new members will be welcomed at this meeting.

their secretaries to take so many chances and overwork so that nine were killed by shell fire while on duty, twenty-nine were seriously gassed or wounded, while thirty-one died in the service, chiefly from overwork and exposure.

Nor has anyone been foolish enough to criticize the army officers for citing seventy-eight of our secretaries for bravery or for decorating them.

To be more specific, no returned soldier has criticized us because one of our fellow-townsmen went over the top with the boys more than once in the terrible Argonne drive and even carried food to the men dug in behind a certain ridge when their commanding officer said he would shoot any man who would expose himself to the withering fire. The chances were too great for a soldier to take, but not for our fellow-townsman as a Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Why enumerate anything further? The following incident is typical. A wounded soldier in a hospital declared that the organization was "no good. It's a bunch of grafters." A lady standing nearby asked the young man for his proofs and she jotted them down in writing. When he had finished, she asked, "Is there anything good about the Y. M. C. A. that you can mention?"

The young man was puzzled at first and then said: "Yes, in the port where I spent so much time they gave us the best meals at the lowest prices we had anywhere."

"Was there anything else good about the Y. M. C. A.?" asked the lady.

"Yes, they changed my money there at satisfactory rates. We had been fleeced in other places."

"Anything else?"

"Yes, the Y. M. C. A. was the place where we fellows used to meet. It was bright and warm and about the only place open to us. No, let me correct myself; they had a great thing for the navy in that town, too—just dedicated a navy hut, one of the finest I ever saw."

"Did you see anything else?"

"Yes, of course, we had American magazines and writing paper and things like that."

"Were all these things supplied free?"

"Yes; I don't remember that they charged us for any of them—and, by the way," continued the young man, "do you know that great preacher to young men?"

He could not tell the name of the man and the lady could not make out from his remarks who it was, but the young man continued:

"I'm not much on religion, but that man got me and got me on the day I ought to be got—"

And so he continued until before he had finished he had mentioned more than a dozen things that praised the Y. M. C. A., which were strongly in contrast with the several minor objections which had formerly filled his mind.

To the oft repeated question, "Why didn't the Y. M. C. A. give things away free like the Red Cross and the Salvation Army? They gave everything free," I have only to say that that is not true and I can produce one of our Glendale citizens, recently returned from France, who will make affidavit that he bought goods from both in France and paid cash for them.

As to this question of things being given away "free," it is a fact that the Young Men's Christian Association gave away more stuff "free" in the combat area in France than all other welfare organizations combined, if we exclude the Red Cross.

It's the same old story, Mr. Editor. The man who serves most is kicked most. Just run over in your mind the great characters of history, beginning with Woodrow Wilson and going back to Jesus. You know what they did to Jesus and what many would like to do to Wilson. The same is true of organizations. An organization with Jesus at its center expects criticism, merits it often, profits by it, increases in strength and is ready for the next hard task it is called on to do.

I know the secretary who figured in this incident: A certain colonel was particularly grouchy at every Y. M. C. A. secretary. The men had to be changed repeatedly. Finally this party with whom I am acquainted was sent up. The colonel, as usual, was on the job with his statements that "It's too bad the Y. M. C. A. has fallen down so. It's no good," etc. Our secretary replied, "Don't worry, colonel; I have decided to request that it be withdrawn from your regiment at once—it has fallen down terribly." "Like h—— you are," was the reply. "What in h—— will the boys do? Where will they go?"

So there you have it. If we got into another big scrap tomorrow and there was no Young Men's Christian Association to go along with the boys, what would the boys do?

Yours,

WM. D. M'RAE.

WHEN HE COMES HOME—there should be a new Portrait to record the event. We will make such pictures free of charge to every sailor or soldier; tell your friends there is no limit. All are welcome. PROBLEMS BEFORE YOUTH

From the first and all through High."

The stage had been beautifully decorated in the class colors, red and white, relieved with green, by the presidents of the Intermediate and Cerritos P. T. A., Mrs. Franklin and Mrs. Glassburn, with a corps of assistant members, and it made a beautiful setting for the events of the evening.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, who presented the class to the audience and the trustees, as represented by Mrs. Charles Toll, president of the board, voiced his pleasure in introducing as a unit the class from Cerritos Avenue School and from the Intermediate as a symbol of the union of Greater Glendale, and there was immediate applause. He then introduced the speaker of the evening, Judge N. Wells, to whom, he declared, Los Angeles County is much indebted for his work in connection with the war savings campaign.

After some pleasant preliminary remarks and stories, he got down to the serious part of his message, in which he reminded the graduates of the great days in which they are living and of the fact that the salvation of the state and of the world depends upon them and their fellows all over the land who are passing through our schools now, saying: "The great problems that confront us now you must solve.

"The difficulty with our educational system has been a tendency to chuck the mind full of facts—to learn a great many things. We have had the idea that was education and that it was a pounding-in process. Instead, it is the unfolding and development of the resources that exist in you, and no teacher can do for you more than yourself. He can only help and guide. I have discovered that too often the mind of the student is like a splendidly furnished workshop with every modern machine and tool, but lacking the master hand to make use of those things. Children, you may study these things until you are gray-headed, and learn all the knowledge in the universe, and unless you learn to use these things in the service of mankind, the man in the street who can use his shovel is a better educated man than you are." (Applause.)

He spoke of our popular government, for which we are to blame if it is imperfect, and also spoke of our enlarged idea of democracy; that "it is not merely a form of government nor instituted solely for the protection of our rights and privileges, but that it is an ideal, a great opportunity, the gateway to service and another name for religion. It means a better world and a pleasanter place for children to be born in. It is the very practical application of the Golden Rule."

"We have learned," he continued. "that we cannot have liberties and immunities ourselves unless we extend them to others. We have preached liberty and justice to all while civilization writhed in bondage and pleaded piteously for aid. We had something to learn about liberty. If the other nations had defined liberty and justice in the terms we were using, the war would have been lost long ago.

"Freedom consists in the right to think. We want you to be gentle, but above all things we want you to use your brains. Do not be afraid to think or speak for yourself. It is one of the vital principles of democracy.

"Go forward. Be sure that as you tread the path marked out for America you are doing the thing God intended to be done, for I am certain America is to be the leader of civilization. She cannot help it. Without her and her ideals, civilization will fail."

The diplomas were presented by the president of the board, Mrs. Toll, who prefaced the ceremony with a pretty and ingenious little talk in which she took the boys and girls into her confidence and told them that children are great teachers, that they had taught their parents far more than the fathers and mothers could teach them, because through their children parents had learned to be patient, to have self-control, to be just, to be truthful, to be unselfish, to be persevering, and learned devotion to duty, but "the biggest lesson they have learned," she said, "is service through love and that love is the most beautiful thing in the world, love for children and devotion to the family, and if they have not learned through love for their own to love other children, they have not learned the biggest lesson of life."

She spoke of the happiness parents feel in seeing their children receive proofs of faithfulness in school work and of the happiness it gave her to bestow the diplomas which were presented to the following graduates:
